2021-2022 Sailing Season Update

We are awaiting NSW Government restrictions to ease to a point that will allow sailing to commence once more. Based on the current roadmap out of lockdown we are working towards Saturday, October 30 to commence sailing season.

In the meantime, our skiffs are being worked on in preparation of the season, so we can expect to see the magnificent historic 18-footers on the harbour in all their glory very soon.

As soon as we know when we can officially start racing, and have our COVID procedure outlined we will be broadcasting the season start. Stand by!
